PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Dear Colleagues in RCM,

I came across this 20 Happiness Habits article based on the 20 happiness facts published by Harvard University. At a time when many people feel anxious and worried, I am so glad that this article landed on my computer screen.

Every word, every phrase, every paragraph resonates with me. This is me, 100%.

This article is a great reminder how we should live our life—to slow down and savor the moment, to meditate and practice gratitude, to help and spend money on others, to be compassionate and nurture relationships, and to live life with meaning and purpose.

If you want to be happier – and honestly, who doesn't? – check out Harvard's 20 happiness habits listed below (published as is). Start by cultivating one habit at a time and see how you will feel happier over time.

1. Be grateful.

Slow down, look around you, and pay attention to the little details in your life – the delicate purple flower on the sidewalk, the beautiful sunset, the hot shower that washes away your long day, and the smile in your partner's eyes...

When you have a grateful heart that is appreciative of life's beautify, wonder and blessings, you're automatically filled with happiness.

2. Choose your friends wisely.

According to Harvard, the most important external factors affecting individual happiness are human relationships.

So if you want to be happy, choose to be around people who are optimistic, who appreciate you as you are, and who can make your life richer, bigger, more fun, and more meaningful.

3. Cultivate compassion.

When we try to step into other people's shoes and understand a situation from another's perspective, we're more likely to handle the situation with compassion, objectivity and effectiveness. There will be less conflicts and more happiness.

4. Keep learning.

Learning keeps us young and dreams keep us alive.

When we engage our brains and put them toward productive uses, we're less likely to dwell on unhappy thoughts and much more likely to feel happy and fulfilled.

5. Become a problem solver.

Happy people are problem solvers. When they encounter a challenge in life, they don't beat themselves up and fall into a depressive state.

Instead, they face up to the challenge and channel their energies toward finding creative a solution.

By becoming a problem solver, you'll build up your self-confidence and your ability to accomplish whatever it is you set your mind to – and whatever challenges life throws your way.

The result? You'll have more happiness in your life.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

7. Live in the present.

When you feel depressed, you're living in the past. When you feel worried or anxious, you're living in the future. But when you feel content, happy and peaceful, you're living in the present.

8. Laugh often.

Laughter is the most powerful antidote to anger or depression.

Research has shown that the simple act of curving the corners of your mouth can increase your feeling of happiness.

So don't take life too seriously. Try to find humor and laughter in life's everyday struggles.

9. Practice forgiveness.

Resentment and anger are forms of self-punishment. When you forgive, you're actually practicing kindness to yourself.

So learn to forgive those who have hurt you in the past. And most importantly, learn to forgive yourself.

Everyone makes mistakes. It's through our mistakes that we learn and grow to become a bigger and better person.

10. Say thanks often.

Always be appreciative of the blessings in your life. And it's equally important to express your appreciation to those who've made your life better in some way, big or small.

11. Create deeper connections.

Our happiness multiplies when we connect and bond with another human being on a deeper level.

And being fully present and listening are two of the most important skills to strengthening that bond and bringing happiness to ourselves, and to others.

12. Keep your agreement.

Our self-esteem is built on the agreements we've made with ourselves. And high self-esteem has a direct correlation to happiness.

So keep your agreements with others and with yourself. Do what you say you're going to do.

13. Meditate.

According to Harvard, people who take 8 sessions of mindfulness meditation training are, on average, 20% happier than a control group.

Such training can lead to structural brain changes including increased grey-matter density in the hippocampus, known to be important for learning and memory, and in structures associated with self-awareness, compassion and introspection.

14. Focus on what you're doing.

When you put your mind, heart and soul into what you're doing, you're creating a happiness state - called the "flow."

When you're living in the flow, you're less likely to care about what others may think of you, and less bothered by things that are not that important. The result? More happiness, of course!

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

15. Be optimistic.

For happy people, the glass is always half-full. If your tendency is to imagine the very worst-case scenario every time you face a challenge, then train yourself to reverse that tendency.

Ask yourself what good can come out of the situation or what you can learn from it. Optimism surely fuels success and happiness.

16. Love unconditionally.

No one is perfect. Accept yourself for all of your imperfections. And do so for others.

Loving someone unconditionally does not mean that you need to spend all your time with them or help them figure out their problems.

Unconditional love means accepting people as they are, and allowing them to find their own ways, at their own pace.

17. Don't give up.

Unfinished projects and repeated defeats inevitably dampen one's self-esteem.

If you've made up your mind to do something, see it through. Don't give up until you succeed.

Remember, failure is temporary but defeat is permanent. And defeat only occurs when you give up.

18. Do your best and then let go.

Everyone has limitations, and things don't always turn out to be what we'd like them to be – despite our efforts.

So always give your best, and then let go. Let events run their course. When you've done your best, you'll have no regrets.

19. Take care of yourself.

A healthy body is the key to happiness. If you have poor health, it's very difficult to be happy no matter how hard you try.

So make sure you eat well, exercise and find time to rest. Take good care of your body, your mind and your spirit.

20. Give back.

Doing good is one of the surest ways to feel good.

According to Harvard, when people do good, their brains becomes active in the very same reward center that is stimulated when they experience other rewards.

So it's not a surprise that people who care more about others are happier than those who care less about others.

These happiness habits have proven to be true in my own life. During those periods when I focus on cultivating the habits listed above, I do feel happier and more fulfilled – like now.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Happiness is not an accident. It's a conscious decision that takes conscious effort.

You cannot seek happiness directly. When you do, happiness eludes you.

Instead, focus on cultivating these 20 happiness habits, and you'll experience great happiness in your life, guaranteed!

Let us all be happy and positive while taking actions to help improve the lives of others. Remember, positivity without action is meaningless.

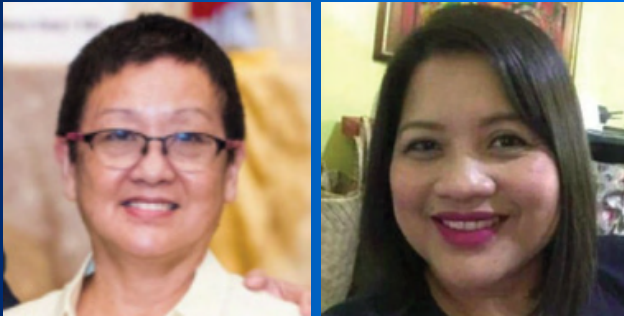

Your Servant President,

Robert "Bobby" Lim Joseph, Jr.

STAR Rtn. John I. Bautista, Jr.: Living an Unselfish Life

by Rhea Vitto Tabora

“Living an unselfish life is a life well lived. Let’s be part of the solution. Let us all rise together.”

This was STAR Rtn. John Bautista, Jr.’s battlecry during his term as JCI Manila President last year.

Committed to serving and helping others, STAR Rtn. John has been embracing this philosophy for a long time. During his stint with JCI, the organization accomplished over 200 projects that touched and improved the lives of over 20 million Filipinos.

A devoted family man, he loves to spend a lot of time with his wife and kids. While the pandemic has affected their love for travel, they seize the moment to spend more quality time together either at home or at their place by the beach in Batangas.

Read on and get to know more about STAR Rtn. John—what was the most inspiring event that has happened to him during this pandemic and how their family is spending time together. He also shares the benefits of running a family business, what has been his most satisfying moment in the business, and how being an entrepreneur has affected his family life.

Find out how this STAR Rotarian is living a meaningful life, something anyone could be proud of.

STAR Rtn. John I. Bautista, Jr.: Living an Unselfish Life

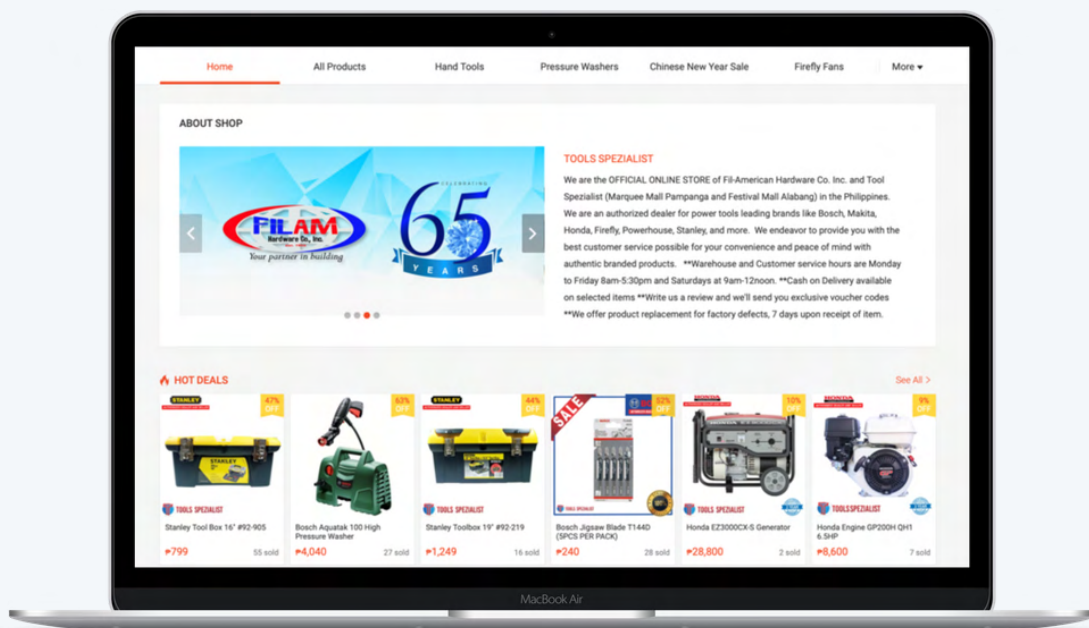

Rhea Vitto Tabora (RVT): As Director of Fil-American Hardware Co., Inc. and Vice President of JIBHAUS Co., Inc., what is your typical day at work like?

John I. Bautista, Jr. (JIB): My day usually starts with a little quiet time, and I've been into reading more books lately and a little exercise to get me going for the day. I usually get my first report at about 7:00 am from our logistics and warehouse team for the deliveries for the day. And I'm in the office usually around 9:00 – 9:30 am. Our business is a little traditional, so physical presence of most of our employees in the office is still required. I'm in the office from Mondays to Saturdays.

RVT: How has being an entrepreneur affected your family life?

JIB: It has its good and bad benefits, but I would like to think there are more benefits into it. Time may be both good and bad. I get to spend more time with family as I can get away from work when I wish to most of the time, which is good, but of course, work can also call on you anytime, including Sundays.

But it has also given us other opportunities as well. Right now, my wife, Deux, is able to help me out also for work by expanding our operations online to several online platforms. That's really something good to see.

RVT: What has been your most satisfying moment in business?

JIB: The overall experience of being in the family business has been really an amazing experience. The business has been there the past 65 years, and I'm already a third-generation member of this business. They say, with family businesses, the first generation builds it, the second generation grows it, and the third generation loses it.

Well, I'm just glad that I'm able to have a good mentor with my dad, and because of that, I am able to continue the tradition of growing the business even as a third-generation member of the business.

Now, on the third generation, we have grown the business into importing various products that we can sell here. We have expanded our retail operations and grown our online presence as one of the biggest hardware stores online.

RVT: What advice would you give to someone starting a business?

JIB: Just do the hard work first, be simple and humble. Some people would like to reap the benefits and spend the money earned at once, but I would always suggest putting the money back to the business and let it grow.

Live a simple life so you will not spend so much on yourself or on material things. And stay humble when you make it. There is no need to boast about your success, but rather, share that blessing and be a blessing to others.

RVT: If you were not an entrepreneur, what career would you like to explore?

JIB: A professional golf athlete. Haha!

I have always been into sports—as a swimmer and water polo player in my younger days—so being a professional athlete was always a dream of mine.

RVT: What is your philosophy in life?

JIB: Living an unselfish life is a life well lived. Giving back and being a blessing to others is really something I live by. It gives me great joy and fulfillment knowing I have helped someone in any small way I can.

RVT: Who has been your greatest inspiration?

JIB: My family is my greatest inspiration. It is because of them that I try to be the best husband, father, son and brother to all of them.

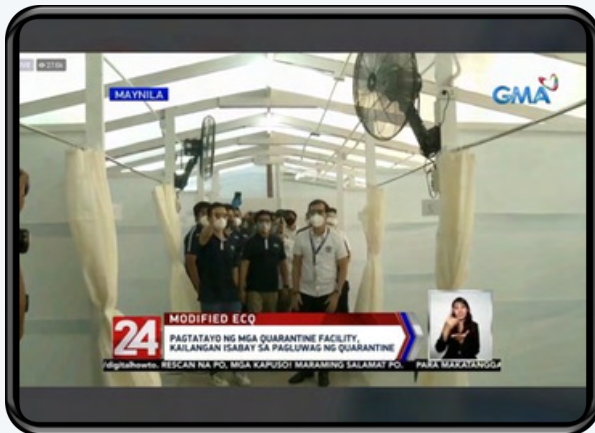

STAR Rtn. John's immediate family

RVT: What is the most inspiring event that has happened to you during this pandemic?

JIB: I was the president of JCI Manila in 2020, during the year of the pandemic, and it was a very challenging time for me. But through the help of our members, partners and sponsors, we were able to do over 200 projects during the pandemic and help more than 20 million people nationwide.

We were able to build the first quarantine facility in the City of Manila, and we built it in less than 10 days to immediately help those infected with corona virus. Until now, this facility is still being used, and it has helped more than a thousand Manileños during this pandemic.

RVT: What is your favorite way to spend time with your family?

JIB: We love to travel abroad as a family, but unfortunately, during this pandemic, this has been something we couldn't do. Fortunately, we have a place in Batangas where we can go to. We would go to Nasugbu every month for about five days and just spend time with the kids at the beach or at the pool, or just walk and bike with them.

STAR Rtn. John I. Bautista, Jr.: Living an Unselfish Life

One positive thing this pandemic brought to us is being able to spend quality time with our family, and it has been an awesome experience for us all.

RVT: Where is the next place on your travel bucket list, and why?

JIB: South of France or any quiet little town in Europe. To just relax and slow things down—this is something my wife and I would like to do.

Traveling to major cities or top tourist destinations is nice, but it gets busy and you ask yourself if you're really having a vacation because traveling can be really hectic.

What we want to do is get away from the city and stay in a nice quiet town, get an Airbnb or something, go for a morning walk or jog, go to a local coffee shop and just relax for a good month or so. No rush seeing all the tourist attractions. No rush going from airports to train stations or driving from one place to another. Just simply relaxing, enjoying the local culture, and meeting new friends along the way.

MANILA, PHILIPPINES

Enrique Razon Jr.'s team steps in to manage Manila Water over a year after the deal was announced

Rtn. Boj Locsin is the New Chief Administrative Officer of Manila Water Co., Inc.

Fernando and Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala and other officials are formally out of Manila Water's management and board, as the company completed its subscription agreement with Enrique Razon Jr.'s Prime Strategic Holdings, giving the latter control of the utility company.

In a disclosure to the Philippine Stock Exchange on Friday, June 4, it was announced that Razon was made director, chairman of the board, chief executive officer, and chairman and member of the executive committee of Manila Water.

The other new officers and board directors are:

- Donato Almeda - chief regulatory officer
- Christian Gonzales - director
- Rafael Consing - director
- Eric Ramon Recto - operations committee member
- Roberto Locsin - chief administrative officer
- Melvin John Tan - chief operating officer for non-East Zone and international businesses
- Silverio Benny Tan - corporate secretary

Abelardo Basilio remains in Manila Water as chief operating officer for the East Zone concession area. Sherisa Nuesa, former executive committee member, is still a board member.

Former Manila Water executives include Jose Rene Almendras (president and CEO), Antonio Aquino (executive committee member), Gerardo Albaza Jr. (director), John Eric Francia (director), Virgilio Rivera (COO for new business operations), and Solomon Hermosura (corporate secretary).

Fernando Zobel stepped down as chairman but remains as board director. Almendras is non-executive director.

Ayala Corporation, together with its wholly owned subsidiaries Philwater Holdings Company and AC Energy and Infrastructure Corporation, and Razon's Trident Water Company Holdings, earlier executed a shareholders' agreement for Razon's subscription of Manila Water's common shares worth at least P10.7 billion.

Philwater also executed and delivered a proxy in favor of Trident Water for Philwater's 2.69 billion preferred shares in Manila Water.

As a result of the subscription by Trident Water and its appointment as proxy of Philwater over the preferred shares, Trident Water's economic and voting stakes in Manila Water are 25% and 51%, respectively.

Ayala's direct and indirect economic interest in Manila Water is now 38.6% and its voting interest is now 31.6%.

In a nutshell, Ayala maintains economic interest in Manila Water, but Razon will be running operations.

JCI Makati and the Rotary Club of Manila will undertake a joint project, entitled, Sinag-Aralan EduAksyon. It aims to produce bamboo libraries powered by solar panels for readers of the chosen communities. The books that these libraries will house are from different genres. These will be available for reading in order to cater to the needs of the community and to widen one's perspective. This project likewise aims to promote healthy reading and research through books as these are already declining in patronage nowadays due to the availability of internet.

Rotary Manila names 29th TOWER awardees

THE TOWER (The Outstanding Workers of the Republic) Awards founded by the Rotary Club of Manila (RCM) has announced its 29th batch of winners following a recent meeting.

Selected to receive the prestigious TOWER Awards are Lyka A. Castillo of Nestle Philippines Inc., Nell D. Pagkalinawan of OpenText (Philippines) Inc., Danilo M. Nazareno of Philippines Coastal Storage and Pipeline Corporation, Marven M. Rosario of Energy Development Corp (EDC), Mark Dennis D. Josol of Ibiben Philippines Inc., and Moises I. Bandong of JTEKT Philippines Corporation.

This year's project committee is led by RCM PP-Jesus M. Pineda Jr., as Chairman of TOWER Awards 2021, with RCM Foundation Inc. chair Herminio S. Esguerra as Co-Chairman and Robert Lim Joseph, President of Rotary Club Manila for year 2020-2021.

RCM launched this annual search for outstanding blue collar workers of the country nearly three decades ago, and eventually included in its coverage white collar (non-supervisory) workers.

It aims to recognize the contributions to economic development of the legions of skilled workers who constitute the backbone of our country's manpower capacity.

The awards program transcended the confines of a club's concern because of its nationwide reach and significance in uplifting the Filipino workers morale and social statuses leading to greater prestige at the workplace—to the entrepreneur/employer and colleagues, to the family and the community, while enhancing individual career opportunities and promoting industrial peace.

The RCM Tower Awards is a legacy project and the first in Asia.

RCM project partnerships are with People Management Association of the Philippines (PMAP), Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) and Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation (PAGCOR), Palawan Express, and Herma Group.

A Board of Judges, composed of different business sector leaders, carefully interviewed the six finalists, and assessed carefully how these exemplar workers, whose initiative and interest in their craft, were deserving of this national recognition.

MANILA WATER
CARE IN EVERY DROP

MANILA WATER Co. Inc. is now led by ports tycoon Enrique K. Razon, Jr. after his Trident Water Co. Holdings, Inc. completed its tender offer on June 3.

In a stock exchange disclosure on Friday, Manila Water announced that Trident Water led by Mr. Razon now has 51% voting interest in the east zone water concessionaire.

The water provider also disclosed that Mr. Razon was appointed as its director, chairman of the board of directors, president and chief executive officer, and chairman and member of the executive committee, effective June 3.

In turn, Manila Water said Fernando Zobel de Ayala stepped down as its chairman of the board of directors, chairman and member of the executive committee, and member of the talent and remuneration committee.

Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala also vacated his post as Manila Water's vice chairman and director.

Razon Takes Lead of Manila Water

The water concessionaire also announced that Jose Rene Gregory D. Almendras also stepped down as its president and chief executive officer after the appointment of Mr. Razon.

"The entry of Trident, which is a part of Prime Strategic Holdings Inc. of the Razon Group, into Manila Water will further strengthen the company," the disclosure said.

Manila Water's new leadership include Donato C. Almeda as chief regulatory officer; Rafael D. Consing, Jr. as member of the executive committee; and Roberto R. Locsin as chief administrative officer.

Ayala Corp. said in a separate stock exchange disclosure that Trident Water's economic and voting stakes in Manila Water are now at 25% and 51%, respectively.

Meanwhile, Ayala Corp.'s direct and indirect economic interest in Manila Water is at 38.6% while its voting interest is at 31.6%.

In February 2020, Razon-led Prime Metroline Holdings Inc. — now known as Prime Strategic Holdings Inc. — on behalf of Trident Water, signed a subscription agreement with Manila Water for 820 million common shares at P13 per share.

Further, Manila Water's subsidiary Philwater Holdings Co. Inc. granted proxy rights to Trident Water over its number of preferred shares to enable the Razon-led unit to achieve 51% voting interest in the water concessionaire.

In February this year, Philwater Holdings and Trident Water executed a share purchase agreement to allow the latter to purchase 2.69 billion preferred shares of the former in Manila Water.

For the first quarter of the year, Manila Water posted an 8% decline in its attributable net income to P1.30 billion as a result of the low contribution from its east zone concession area. The company's consolidated operating revenues dropped 12% to P4.85 billion.

On Friday, shares of Manila Water at the stock exchange rose 0.27% or four centavos to close at P14.88 apiece. — Revin Mikhael D. Ochave

THE ROTARY FOUNDATION

An Invitation to Join the Roster of Paul Harris Fellows

July 14, 2020

Dear Fellow Rotarians,

An Opportunity has now opened doors for our club to be a 100% Paul Harris Club. With only US$ 500.00 as a beginning contribution, you can now become a Paul Harris Fellow.

We have members who have risen to donor levels that have earned them significant point values. Our fellow members led by IPP Jackie Rodriguez, PDG Alex Cureg, IPVP Hermie Esguerra, PDG Rudy Bediones and PDG Obet Pagdanganan have indicated their willingness to share the points they have earned to allow Rotarians to be enrolled in the Roster of Paul Harris Fellows for only an initial contribution of US$ 500.00 instead of the regular US$ 1,000.00.

Contributions can easily be made by enrolling in www.rotary.org using your R.I. Identification Number. Once enrolled, you are allowed to learn Rotary, increase your circle of friendship and contribute conveniently using the website.

We, Rotarians, belong to a global family of service-oriented people who believe that our congregation is a means to share our blessings to the less fortunate communities globally. The Rotary Foundation is the funding arm of global humanitarian undertakings of Rotary International. It was formally named in 1917 and the first trustees were appointed after Rotary International President Arch Klumph proposed for the establishment of an endowment for the purpose of doing good in the world. The first grant of US$ 500 benefitted the International Society for Crippled Children (Easter Seals). History marks the milestone projects of The Rotary Foundation such a scholarship for international graduate study, the elimination of Polio worldwide, the initiation of a World Peace Forum, among others. Under the Rotary's 7 Areas of Service Focus, namely, Peace and Conflict Prevention/Resolution, Disease Prevention and Treatment, Water and Sanitation, Maternal and Child Health, Basic Education and Literacy, Economic and Community Development and lastly, Supporting the Environment, Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation have made themselves relevant to developing communities globally.

All these services would not have been made possible if not for the generosity of Rotarians, who voluntarily enlisted themselves to become members of The Rotary Foundation through a minimal contribution of US$ 1,000.00.

We are currently working on a Global Grants for COVID-19 and other community-related projects. Your contribution will significantly improve the community living of our target beneficiaries.

For any assistance, please feel free to contact me.

Yours in the service of Rotary,

Todd Jenkins spent three months in Brazil learning how Brazilian university administrators work with students while pursuing his doctorate.

"When we travel, this amazing thing happens. We let down our guard. You're constantly exposed to new experiences and new people. I'm so grateful for Rotary for allowing me to experience that." Tara Higgins spent eight weeks in Ireland visiting a number of classrooms to improve her skills as a teacher.

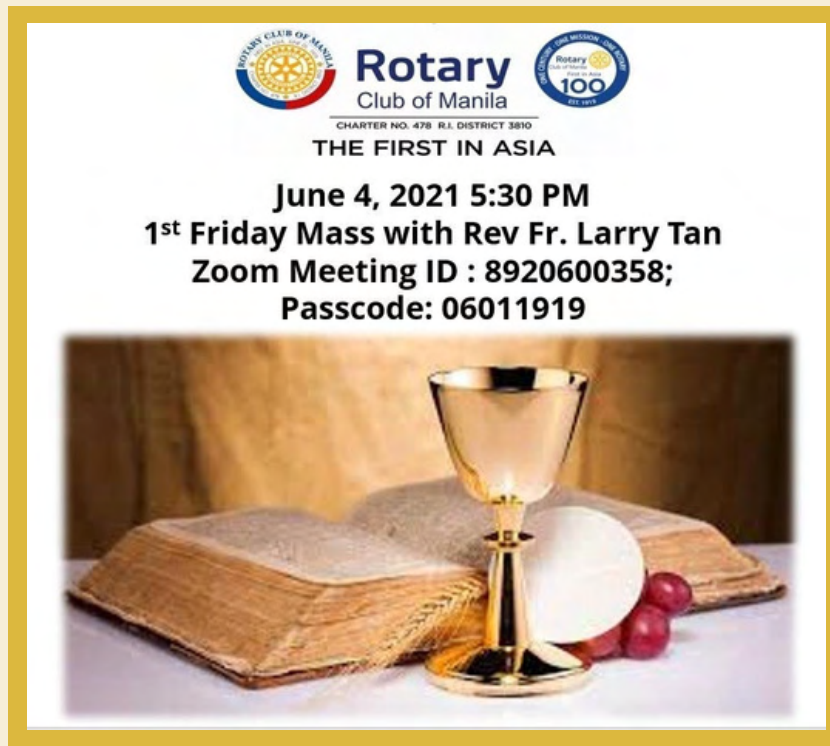

"The experience was beyond what I could have ever hoped for: Not only was the breadth of work experience completely unexpected, the hospitality I experienced was second to none."
