www.ccvlaw.com

Atty. RAOUL C. Creencia is the Managing Partner of The Firm of Creencia Carillo and Velasco (CCV), a legal consulting firm. He obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree (Major in Political Science) from the University of Santo Tomas. He later earned his Bachelor of Laws degree from San Beda University, and pursued further studies in law at the University of Sydney (Australia).

In 1996 to 2010, Atty. Creencia was engaged in private practice with his firm -- Creencia Carillo and Baldovino Law Offices focusing on civil and corporate litigation, and corporate advisory services. He also did litigation work and argued his cases in the Supreme Court.

At that time, he also taught Constitutional Law and Legal Ethics at the San Sebastian College of Law. In 2006, he also began as a lecturer in the various MCLE (Mandatory Continuing Legal Education) programs for lawyers. Today, he continues to be an MCLE lecturer, specifically on the Build-Operate-Transfer Law and other Private-Public Partnership modalities. He also went back to teach at the San Sebastian College of Law, handling Corporation Law, Insurance Law, and Corporate Practice.

In October 2010, he was appointed Government Corporate Counsel (GCC) of the Office of the Government Corporate Counsel (OGCC), and in such capacity served as the chief lawyer of all government corporations and financial institutions of the country. Moreover, aside from arguing the GOCC cases before the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court, he also handled mediation and arbitration hearings in New York, Singapore, and Hongkong. During his five-year stint as GCC, he principally wrote and released the 2011 OGCC Implementing Rules and Regulations, the 2012 OGCC Lawyers Manual, and the 2013 Handbook for GOCC Lawyers. He also participated in crafting the 2013 NEDA Joint-Venture (JV) Guidelines.

He was also invited as a lecturer on corporate governance at the Development Academy of the Philippines (DAP) and the Institute of Corporate Directors (ICD).

In 2016, he was appointed Undersecretary of the Department of Transportation (DOTr), and was tasked to handle two important portfolios: legal affairs and procurement. As such, he was heavily involved in the crafting and review of major concession agreements, and various PPP (Public-Private Partnership) processes. He was also the DOTr representative to the Government Procurement Policy Board (GPPB).

After his stint in government, Atty. Creencia is now back in private practice, with the same Firm which he founded almost 25 years ago. He and his revitalized and expanded team now handle various PPP and Government Procurement Projects in the water, power, waste management, and infrastructure sectors, among others.

Atty. Creencia is a member of the Integrated Bar of the Philippines – Quezon City Chapter, as well as the Philippine Bar Association.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Greetings my dear fellow Rotarians!

As we wind down the Calendar year of 2021, I would like to extend my best wishes to one and all during these Christmas Holidays.

We have been so blessed with all the milestones of our club.

Last week, we had a very successful Governor's Visit which was a comprehensive review of our club activities and achievements accomplished thus far during this Rotary Year.

There was a Team Visit held last November 27, 2021 to run through the presentation for the Governor's Visit together with his district team.

Last Thursday, the day started with District Governor Robert Koa and I doing a one-on-one prior to the Governor's Visit where there was a review of the plans of the Rotary Club of Manila in the presence of the Board of Directors. The team meeting went into overtime and thankfully the District Governor reserved his message for the meeting proper together with the entire club.

Today, we shall be having the elections for the Board of Trustees for our RCManila Foundation, Inc. The nominations have been made where we have received the confirmations from the nominees and we shall hopefully elect into office a dynamic set of Trustees for next Rotary year.

Today, likewise, I am giving a Special Presidential Citation to a true pure blooded Rotarian. I am not printing his name here lest the element of surprise be diluted.

We are also gearing up for our Virtual Christmas Fellowship this Friday at 5:00 pm.

Bring out your Hawaiian shirts and shades as we get together for this themed virtual gathering. We shall have entertainment, some games, food and prizes!!!

This coming Sunday is our DDCC/IPP Bobby Joseph's birthday. True to form, he is celebrating his special day by spending lunch with the DUALTECH community during his birthday. Iba talaga si DDCC/IPP Bobby Joseph.

Happy and Blessed Advanced Birthday to you, our dear IPP Bobby Joseph! Mabuhay ka!

Finally, I would like to gently remind everyone to please celebrate this Christmas with the right Reason for the Season... the greatest gift ever! Our Lord and Savior... Jesus Christ !!!

Cheers!!!

Humbly yours in Rotary,

FSZ

THE ROTARY FOUNDATION

Appeal for Paul Harris Fellows

July 1, 2021

Dear Fellow Rotarians,

An Opportunity has now opened doors for our club to be a 100% Paul Harris Club. With only US$ 500.00 as a beginning contribution, you can now become a Paul Harris Fellow.

We have members who have risen to donor levels that have earned them significant point values. Our fellow members led by IPP Jackie Rodriguez, PDG Alex Cureg, PVP Hermie Esguerra, PDG Rudy Bediones and PDG Obet Pagdanganan have indicated their willingness to share the points they have earned to allow Rotarians to be enrolled in the Roster of Paul Harris Fellows for only an initial contribution of US$ 500.00 instead of the regular US$ 1,000.00.

Contributions can easily be made by enrolling in www.rotary.org using your R.I. Identification Number. Once enrolled, you are allowed to learn Rotary, increase your circle of friendship and contribute conveniently using the website.

We, Rotarians, belong to a global family of service-oriented people who believe that our congregation is a means to share our blessings to the less fortunate communities globally. The Rotary Foundation is the funding arm of global humanitarian undertakings of Rotary International. It was formally named in 1917 and the first trustees were appointed after Rotary International President Arch Klumph proposed for the establishment of an endowment for the purpose of doing good in the world. The first grant of US$ 500 benefitted the International Society for Crippled Children (Easter Seals). History marks the milestone projects of The Rotary Foundation such a scholarship for international graduate study, the elimination of Polio worldwide, the initiation of a World Peace Forum, among others. Under the Rotary's 7 Areas of Service Focus, namely, Peace and Conflict Prevention/Resolution, Disease Prevention and Treatment, Water and Sanitation, Maternal and Child Health, Basic Education and Literacy, Economic and Community Development and lastly, Supporting the Environment, Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation have made themselves relevant to developing communities globally.

All these services would not have been made possible if not for the generosity of Rotarians, who voluntarily enlisted themselves to become members of The Rotary Foundation through a minimal contribution of US$ 1,000.00.

We are currently working on Global Grants and District Grants. Your contribution will significantly improve the community living of our target beneficiaries.

For any assistance, please feel free to contact me.

Dear LCP Felix Zaldarriaga,

Greetings in St. La Salle!

The Rotaract Club of De La Salle University (RAC DLSU) is a school-based Rotaract club sponsored by the Rotary Club of Manila. As an organization, we commit ourselves to pursue initiatives centered on Rotary's seven (7) main areas of focus to be catalysts of change, in the field of servant-leadership, through fellowship and collective actions, in pursuit of peace and international understanding in society.

To amplify this endeavor, we cordially invite you to Spectacle: The Rotaract Club of DLSU's 23rd Induction and 22nd Handover Ceremony, from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM, on January 21, 2022 (Friday), via Zoom conference. The event is intended to induct the current officers, trainees, and members of the organization while giving recognition to the past officers' accomplishments and the organization's milestones.

With this, may we request your kind and dignified presence during the event, as we welcome the new members of our organization for the Rotary Year 2021-2022? We would like to respectfully ask you to prepare an address, which shall serve as one of the highlights of the ceremony. We are currently in the process of finalizing the specifics of the event, but rest assured that we will immediately get back to you, for a more comprehensive program flow.

For now, may we kindly confirm if you're available during the date and time of the event? We hope to hear back from you on or before December 9, 2021.

We will be immensely grateful should you decide to grace us with your wisdom. For any concerns prior to confirming, you may contact Arvin Ajesta, Executive Vice President for Externals of RAC DLSU at arvin_ajesta@dlsu.edu.ph or thru SMS at 09165097823.

Angel Thoughts

This week, the second Sunday of Advent, let's hear it from my dear colleague and "partner," the associate editor of this paper, book author, and editor, Jullie Yap Daza with her tribute for the "First Gentleman" in our media forum, Bulong Pulungan (which lasted 36 years at Sofitel) Frank Evaristo!

PP Frank Evaristo Turns A Milestone 80

"Dear darling Frank,

If life begins at 40, you're on your way to your second spring! Hep hep hooray! Frank, you deserve the biggest double dose of our birthday wishes 'cuz nobody but nobody can ever, ever replace you as our First Gentleman in the Bulong Pulungan cabal. You're too young to change, and that's how we want you to stay, sweet as you are, kind and charming and generous with your time escorting us, supporting us in our youth and old age, and just being yourself.

When your next birthday comes around, where will the party be? Missing you, our Bulong sisterhood, and our Bulong moments with you. Keep safe, strong, and simpatico, always!—Julie"

Frank Evaristo, is chalking up 80 years on Dec. 18. He is an entrepreneur, civic leader, writer, and most of all, a dedicated father to Jun Jun, Caroline, Amy, Carlo, Lorraine, and a doting grandfather to Anton, Arsee, Angel, and Allie. Soft-spoken, humble but a doer, Frank is well-liked in his circles.

A renowned civic leader, he has been the president of the Alay Lakad Foundation for 20 years, where he has helped raise funds for thousands of out-of-school youths while walking for a cause. He was the president of the Rotary Club Manila in Rotary Year 2014-2015. In addition, he was the 1980 National president of the Philippine Jaycees as well as a past president of the Philippine British Association. In recent times, he has become part of the Eucharistic Ministry where he serves during masses at the Rockwell Makati Community.

For his 80th birthday, we ask what he is most grateful for and he replies that he would like to thank everyone for all the love and blessings he has received from his friends and family, most especially, from the Lord, the gift of possessing good health at a seasoned age.

Frank with his grandkids

His kids and grandkids love him to the moon and back with the kind of sweetness expressed in these messages that follow.

PP Frank Evaristo Turns A Milestone 80

"Your 80th birthday is the time
To reveal the secret to your vitality
It is time to spill the beans on what Makes you so hale and hearty
Exercising, eating well, or being happy

Please tell us what it is that you do
To be as glowing as you are Happy 80th birthday to you

When you turn a hundred
We will have a grand party
This is just a lead up
To all that festivity

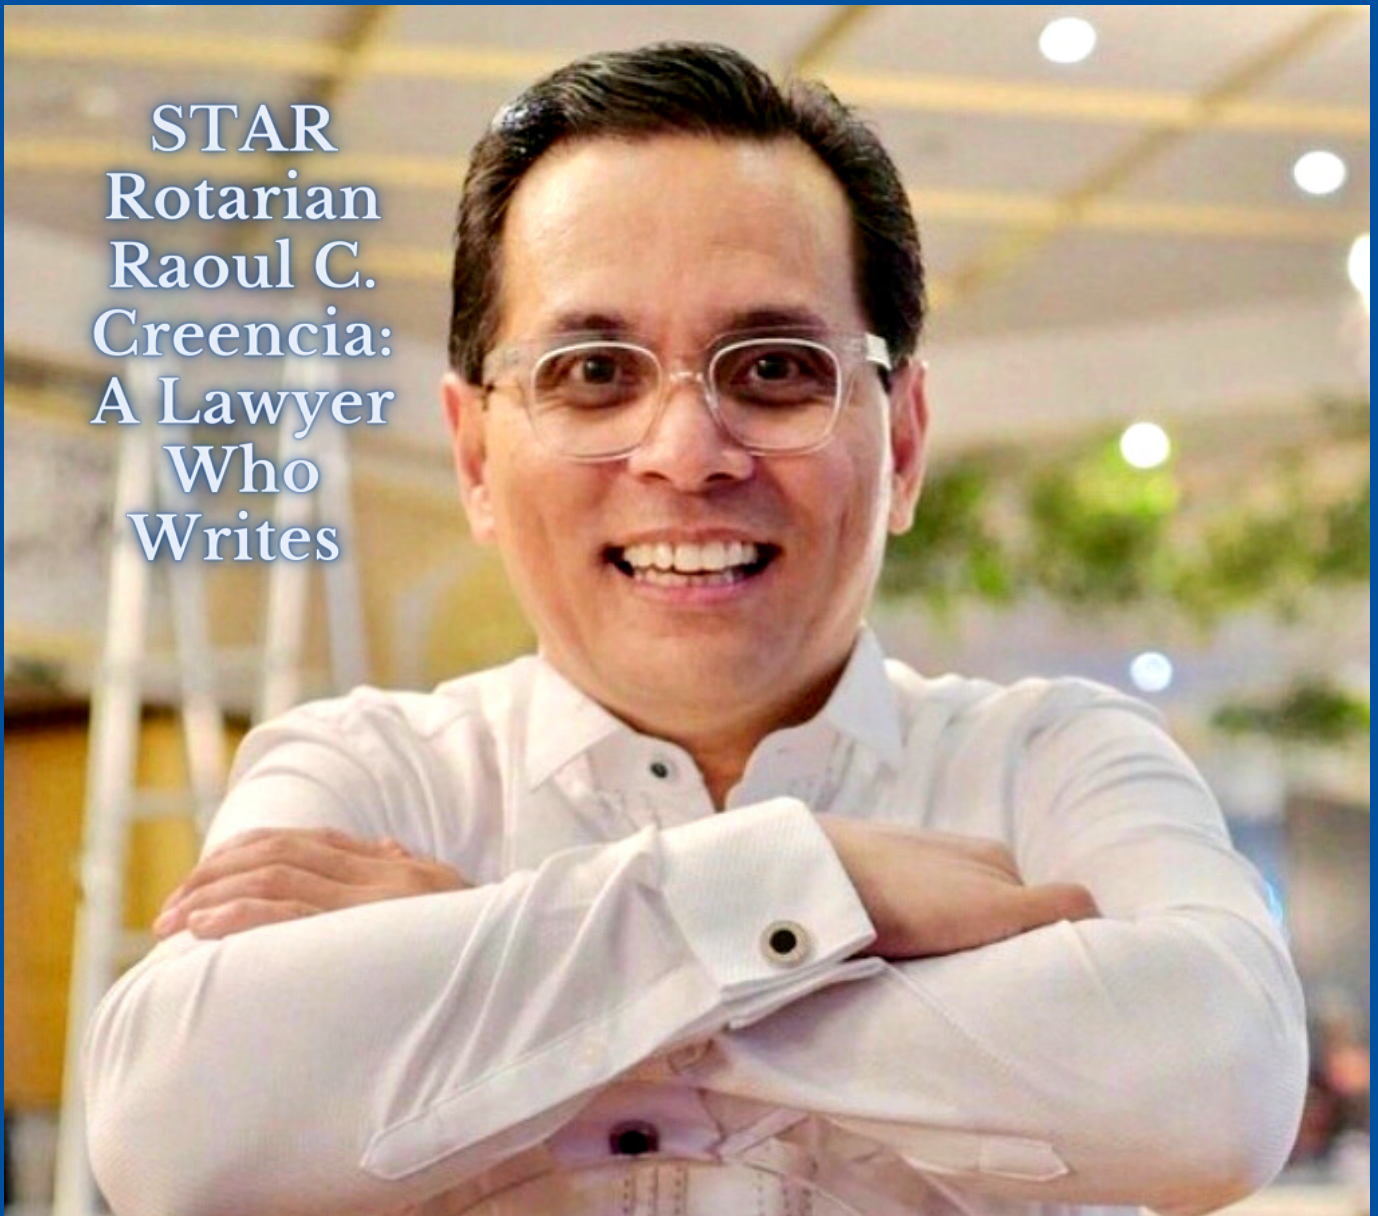

Eighty is the beginning
Of the good times to come
You are truly blessed
Happy 80th birthday!"

STAR Rotarian Raoul C. Creencia: A Lawyer Who Writes

Words are a lawyer's tool of the trade. From writing letters to clients to preparing pleadings, writing is an integral part of lawyering. And lawyers are expected to be excellent, persuasive and proficient writers.

STAR Rotarian Raoul C. Creencia does this kind of writing, and so much more. He writes poems and songs too. He wrote some songs for his family and some hymns for the institutions he was – or continues to be – associated with. Among his compositions is the hymn of the Office of the Government Corporate Counsel (OGCC) which he wrote in 2011 and is still being sung during the flag-raising ceremony every Monday.

As a lawyer, he has done it all – from immersing in private practice when he founded his firm in 1996, to getting involved in various government projects as the Government Corporate Counsel of the OGCC and as Undersecretary of the Department of Transportation (DOTr), to teaching at the San Sebastian Institute of Law and conducting lectures in various mandatory continuing legal education (MCLE) programs for lawyers. Be inspired as STAR Rtn. Raoul shares his career journey in this interview.

He also shares what it takes to become a lawyer. And no, it's not just passing all the subjects – it's embracing and living the "7Ps".

Read on to find out more about him and his professional philosophy as well as his favorite pastimes.

Rhea Vitto Tabora (RVT): Please tell us a bit about yourself.

Raoul C. Creencia (RCC): My name is Raoul, the second child in a brood of three. I was born and grew up in Tacloban City, and I eventually got my pre-law and law degrees in Manila. I married my college sweetheart, Mylene “Myls” Marcia, also a lawyer and presently the Managing Partner of Fortun Narvasa and Salazar Law Offices. Myls and I are blessed with a daughter Melissa Rica “Mikee” and she is currently pursuing her further studies in Sydney, Australia.

At present, I am the Managing Partner of Creencia Carillo and Velasco; and I am both inspired and proud to still be with the same core team which I put together when I founded the Firm in 1996.

With his team at The Firm of Creencia Carillo and Velasco, where he sits as Managing Partner

RVT: Why did you go into law practice? Have you always wanted to become a lawyer?

RCC: I was already in my college sophomore year when I decided to become a lawyer. It was the mid-1980s and the country was going through a pivotal and steering phase. It was then that I became more fascinated and captivated by the power and intricacies of the law – how it impacts the life of an individual, and how it influences the journey and molds the destiny of a country.

When I was in high school, I actually considered becoming a civil engineer; but it was my older brother who eventually pursued that career.

When I entered college, I thought of becoming a reporter or broadcast journalist. But instead of taking up journalism, I decided to major in political science as my pre-law degree.

RVT: What do you wish you knew about practicing law before you got into it?

RCC: If there is one thing I wish I knew beforehand, it is how imperfect our legal system is, and how frustrating it can sometimes be for those who have less in life to truly achieve more in law. Ruefully, we are poorly ranking globally in terms of efficiency of our criminal justice system, as well as our observance of Rule of Law.

RVT: Which legal practice area are you into and why did you choose it?

RCC: During the early years of my practice, I was involved in civil, criminal, and commercial litigation, as well as corporate advisory work. During my stint as Government Corporate Counsel and later, as Transportation Undersecretary (Legal and Procurement), I was involved in various government infrastructure projects, numerous Public-Private Partnership projects, and dealt with major government procurement issues.

When I went back to private practice, my team and I began handling these types of projects and procurements, this time representing the private sector. My Firm also continues to handle litigation and arbitration cases.

STAR Rtn. Raoul Creencia served as the Government Corporate Counsel of the Office of the Government Corporate Counsel (OGCC)

RVT: Without divulging sensitive details, can you share your most interesting/memorable case?

RCC: As a rookie lawyer, I assisted the country's best lawyers in assisting an embattled client in what was then the most celebrated tax evasion case. It was truly memorable as I had the opportunity to work with a seasoned litigator (and an iconic figure in the law profession) and saw firsthand how he prepared for every hearing, and the amount of research that goes into every pleading.

MANILA ROTARIAN IN FOCUS

I also had the opportunity to handle estate-related cases of well-known historical figures. There were other equally – if not more – fulfilling ones, such as the case we successfully handled (pro-bono) for a seafarer against a big corporate employer.

The years when I served as chief counsel of government corporations and financial institutions were also very fulfilling, as the cases and issues which I handled had huge economic and social impact. Successfully recovering the government's multi-billion shares in a publicly listed corporation is also one case which will be forever etched in my memory.

RVT: Law school is tough, passing the bar exam isn't easy, and practicing law is probably one of the most difficult professions. What does it take to become a lawyer?

RCC: In all these phases – law school, bar exam preparations, and law practice – there is no substitute to hard work and lots of prayers. The 5Ps – the mantra that I was taught when I was young – became handy during these phases. The term 5Ps means “prior planning prevents poor performance.” I would later expand this to 7Ps, that is, “prior planning and pious prayers prevent poor performance.”

You are correct, law school is tough, especially prior to the google and internet era. We actually had to go to the library to do our research. In my case, I was also working during my first two years in law school.

For a law student to survive, it is not enough to pass all subjects. As all law students know, one is required to meet a certain average grade (or QPI) to qualify to re-enroll. But instead of stressing myself with my studies, I decided to just enjoy the ride, while making sure that I was getting decent grades and meeting the required QPI.

I decided to enjoy my stay in law school by involving myself in a lot of extra-curricular activities. I was very much involved in the debating club, Law Student Government (President), Association of Law Students of the Philippines (National Chairman), and the ASEAN Law Students Association (Vice-Chairman). It was also in law school where I developed life-long friends.

In all these phases – law school, bar exam preparations, and law practice – there is no substitute to hard work and lots of prayers. The 5Ps – the mantra that I was taught when I was young – became handy during these phases. RVT: What do you think would you be doing if you weren't at your current profession?

RCC: I would probably be a full-time professor and a businessman.

RVT: If you could give one piece of advice to an aspiring lawyer, what would it be?

RCC: Let me give three pieces of advice.

First, as a lawyer, one's fealty is to the law. Always, the law.

Second, a lawyer must serve his clients to best of his ability. The mantra of our Firm in this regard has always been "hindi pwede ang pwede na." The legal compass that we provide the clients must be grounded on research and law, and should aim to serve their best interest.

Third, at one point of your career, serve the country and join the government. The bigger arena of charity is in government service.

RVT: What are your interests and hobbies? What do you do when you are not at work?

RCC: My wife and I are into bowling and golf. I am currently the President of the Quezon City Bowlers Club (QCBC). I am also a member of the San Beda Law Golf Club. A round of golf with my wife or with my golf buddies has become a weekend ritual. I resumed playing golf in the middle of this year, after eleven years of absence. We are hoping that tenpin bowling venues (being an indoor sport) will begin to normally operate next year.

Bowling and playing golf are among his favorite pastimes.

STAR Rotarian Raoul C. Creencia: A Lawyer Who Writes

I also write poems and songs, and have been doing so since high school. I have poems and songs dedicated to my wife, a lullaby for my daughter, a song each for my dear Tatay and Nanay, a song for my Titas, a song for the Lord of Divine Mercy Parish (upon the request of our Parish Priest), and several others. I wrote the hymn of the Office of the Government Corporate Counsel (OGCC) in 2011, which, to date, is still being sung every Monday during the flag ceremony. I composed the Graduation Song of San Beda Law Batch 1993, as well as the Silver Jubilee song in 2017. More recently, I composed the hymn of GREENPRO, the Guild of Real Estate Entrepreneurs and Professions, where I sit as a Trustee and Corporate Secretary. The GREENPRO hymn was launched last Friday, December 3.

I also love photography, although I have not been able to spend time for it in recent years. At home, my wife and I enjoy listening to my vinyl collection.

STAR Rtn. Raoul captured the emotion and mood of the place in this beautiful photograph.

RVT: What ignited your interest in joining the Rotary Club of Manila?

RCC: When I was invited by Life Changing President Chito, I somehow knew I would be making a life-changing decision. Rotary has always appealed to me. Like all Rotarians, I believe that every great dream begins with a dreamer. This is why I am honored to have been invited and be part of the Rotary Club of Manila, which I know is composed of dreamers and achievers, a group of fine gentlemen who have all found themselves while losing themselves in the service of others – the kind of service that is meant to change lives.

Being a good ally to those with disabilities

By S Marathe (full name withheld upon author's request)

As a young Rotary member who has lived with a vision impairment, I have come to understand the importance of allies. An ally is anyone that actively aspires to be inclusive and is intentional through their thoughts, actions, and words to consciously promote a respectful and inclusive culture.

Many organizations are actively attempting to address the low employee representation across minority groups of gender, culture, and disability and are adopting a range of strategies. But many times, it's the day-to-day actions that make the most difference. For International Day of Persons with Disabilities, 3 December, I wanted to share some of the characteristics that make a great ally.

Understand that we are all unique

Allies are deeply empathetic and appreciate that my life experience with a disability is unique to me. No two people with a disability are the same, even if they experience the same type of disability. Their life experiences, preferences, and opinions will be unique. Therefore, you should not take a "cookie cutter" approach and assume what support they need without asking them first. Although you may think you are doing the right thing, support to them may look very different and what you offer may not be helpful at all.

I am legally blind as I have no central vision; however, my peripheral vision is amazing! I don't use a cane and I'm comfortable with my mobility and navigation – which often catches people by surprise as they think of a blind person with a stereotypically image of someone with a cane or guide dog.

Show genuine curiosity with a desire to learn and understand

Allies are not afraid to ask if they don't know, educate themselves, and practise what they learn. They take responsibility for their behaviour and, if they don't get it right the first time, sincerely try again.

ROTARY INFORMATION

Breaking down stigmas and stereotypes is only possible if you have a two-way conversation, are exposed to diverse individuals, and are willing to be open minded and appreciate things from different perspectives. I've found that sharing the story of what I can and can't do helps remove barriers and build trust.

Many people, upon seeing me looking closely at my smartphone, will begin a conversation with "looks like someone needs glasses" or "didn't your mother tell you not to watch the screen so close." When I explain that I have no central vision, they are surprised and ashamed and go silent. The response I love to hear is, "that sounds interesting, tell me more." My disability is a part of who I am and I'm not ashamed of it, nor should you feel ashamed on my behalf.

One in five individuals are living with a disability, so chances are you already know someone. I encourage you to challenge your existing assumptions and seek to understand from them first. Let's keep the conversation flowing, tackle the deep issues, and change social norms so it is no longer taboo!

Create space for me to use my voice, feel empowered, act, and define my own identity

In my younger years, when I was still in deep denial, I found supportive individuals such as my parents and close friends invaluable, but I didn't want them to advocate for me. I wanted their help quietly.

As I met other like-minded individuals and felt the power of community at conferences, I developed my own voice and advocated for myself at university.

The allies I found most impactful were the ones that didn't just clear obstacles for me but taught me how to do so. Their role was to fill me with confidence and listen as I tested my ideas and developed my voice. When I did fall, they were there to unpack it, help me understand what didn't work, and propose new approaches.

It's my life and I want to live it! I want to try climbing up a mountain on a tandem bike feeling every bead of sweat dripping down my face. I want to travel solo around the world and taste that first bite of gooey centred jam donut in Poland. I want to feel the sense of accomplishment as I present my project in front of a board of executives. I want to be given the same opportunities and experiences – even though I might perform the tasks differently and reach a different outcome.

An ally is one who is there by my side, pushing me to keep going. I believe allyship comes to most Rotary members naturally – inclusive behaviour is strongly grounded in our values and Code of Conduct, "to be fair in all dealings with others and treat them with the respect due to them as fellow human beings". If we apply that and The Four-Way Test, Rotary members will be well set up to be good allies.

Reginald “Reggie” T. Yu
Managing Editor, BALITA, RY 2021-2022

AT HOME WITH MR. C. “Music expresses that which cannot be put into words and that which cannot remain silent.” — Victor Hugo

It was a wonderful experience to pick the mind of a multi-awarded composer, renowned maestro, and more recently, National Artist for Music — none other than the Music Man himself, Mr. Ryan Cayabyab.

He was born Raymundo Cipriano Pujante Cayabyab on May 4, 1954 in Manila, Philippines. Like most musicians, Cayabyab was drawn first toward his mother’s piano at an early age (four), at a time when having an upright in the living room was de rigueur for every middle-class family. Except that the young Ryan’s family was not ensconced in the middle class, and his mother was no ordinary mother. Celerina Cayabyab happened to be an opera singer and a professor who taught Voice at the College of Music at the University of the Philippines, and they lived, as it remains the privilege of UP Faculty to this day, in a house made of sawali and G.I. sheets on the University Campus. But plain as it was, the house was large, and filled to the rafters — with their family of six and a complement of 10 lady boarders who all happened to be enrolled in the same college.

His mother died when he was only 6, and her wish was that no one of her children would make music as a line of work; knowing how tough life is for a musician with insufficient income.

Initially driven by this thought, he decided to take up a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree in the University of the Philippines, Diliman. But about this time when he was searching for an employment to sustain his studies, he soon joined with then-Senator Salvador Laurel as accompanist for the Development Bank of the Philippines (DBP) Chorale Ensemble. Noting his incomparable ability on the piano, the Senator presented him a scholarship that would allow Ryan to alter his course and hold learning in music. This changed the direction of his life, as he eventually graduated from the University of the Philippines College of Music, earning a Bachelor’s degree in Music, Major in Composition. For the next two decades, he became a full professor for the Department of Composition and Music Theory at the University of the Philippines Conservatory of Music.

Cayabyab decided to write music in the late 70’s, that age that charted the birth of “Original Pilipino Music” and “Manila Sound” — and the birth of Ryan Cayabyab from musical director, pianist, and arranger, into Ryan Cayabyab, composer. Having learned from the greats, he would write for the greats. He would write not just love songs and pop songs and movie theme songs, but full film scores, modern musicals, entire operas—as if the sweep of his career had naturally played itself, and as if every composition of his had simply written itself out to sound deceptively easy and natural and instantly memorable.

At home with any genre, Cayabyab excels as a composer of the eclectic, the modern, and popular music. Awarded in 1978 as one of TOYM (Ten Outstanding Young Men) of the Philippines, he emerged as the only Asian winner of the Onassis International Cultural Competition in Greece with his "MISA 2000." His works vary from specially made full-length ballets, theater musicals, choral pieces, a crowd set to unaccompanied chorus, and orchestral pieces, to salable recordings of popular composition, film scores and television specials. His musical output consists of several masses, award winning film and television scores, short symphonic works, ten full-length Filipino musicals, a major opera, full length ballets, solo and instrumental works, orchestrations of Filipino folk, popular and love songs, three one-man (he provided all 16 voices) a cappella song albums, and scores of popular songs sung by top Filipino recording artists.

In addition to winning several international music festival competitions, he has won countless awards from the film, television and recording industries. All told, Cayabyab's roots lie firmly in Philippine soil, where he is one of our few true homegrown and home-educated talents. This may seem an irrelevant detail to the casual career observer, or, more precisely, listener of music, but a quick review in our memory of Cayabyab's compositions will reveal the clear and proud difference.

Despite his nationally-renowned stature, Ryan Cayabyab is energetic, eager, and disarmingly modest, matching, note for note, his popular image as a smiling, bespectacled, and ageless talent. "Mr. C," by which he is known equally to those who know him personally and those who don't, in fact, works as a perfect contraction of two things — an honorific reserved for those whose genius firmly lies beyond reach, and a term of endearment for those whose said genius never gets in the way of their approachability.

This is the legacy of Mr. C: a musical genius that the Philippines can truly be proud of.
